COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Office: Room Five, Everett's Block, Broadway. H. W. TILTON, City Editor.

MINOR MENTIONS.

The board of trade meets this evening. Willie Maxon has a broken ankle now as the result of coasting Saturday. Dr. Patton is erecting a large brick livery stable on North Fifth street. The demand for teams for hauling ice has caused the price per day to climb up in some cases to $5. The colored people's grand masquerade at Castle hall to-morrow evening is managed by C. H. Warner. Saturday night was unusually quiet in police circles. One solitary drunk found his way there, and in the absence of any Herdic, rode on a day. Tonight the Cantland-Murray combination opens its week's entertainments at O'haneys', the opening play to be "Poor Nance."

A fourteen-year-old boy succeeded in tumbling into the river Saturday where men were engaged in cutting ice. He was fished out wiser but sadder. The board of trustees of the public library meet this afternoon, and will consider the rules and regulations prepared by the committee appointed for that purpose. Dr. D. Banks McKenzie had large and interested audiences at the Baptist church yesterday to hear his sermon in the morning, and his temperance lecture in the evening. The aldermen are expected this morning to visit Oakland avenue, and gather from personal observation, needed information concerning the grade over which there has been so much discussion and some ill-feeling. Elder W. W. Blair preached at the Latter Day Saints' chapel yesterday afternoon, it being a memorial service for the late Mrs. Henry Palmer. In the evening he gave a discourse concerning the people and prospects of Utah. A musical recital was given last Friday night at the parlors of Mrs. Ford, by the pupils of Mrs. George. About fifty auditors were present and an interesting programme was presented in a manner creditable to both instructor and instructed. It was enjoyable as well to those who listened.

Saturday afternoon the new four wheel horse cart arrived from Chicago, and one of those new city teams purchased in St. Louis drew it along Broadway that the citizens might view the outfit. It was a brilliant parade, the horse cart sparkling with newness and bright colors, and the horses being well groomed. The Light Guards meet at their armory to-morrow evening to transact some important business. It is the desire to fill the ranks completely, and any young men who desire to exercise themselves and gain soldierly bearing, as well as physical strength, are welcome to membership. If any such there be they should present themselves to-morrow evening. James Bramley aroused the suspicions of Officer Cusick as he was trying to sell some handkerchiefs and other articles supposed to have been stolen. Bramley was arrested and locked up as a vagrant, which charge will detain him until satisfactory information can be obtained as to the ownership of the goods. It is thought the goods were stolen in Omaha.

Among the divorce cases to be brought up at the coming term of the circuit court is one in which Phillip Hintz seeks to be legally free from his wife who he married as Bertha Maas, in Adair county last year. It is claimed that three months after marriage Mrs. Maas became a mother, and that her own brother was responsible. This alleged infamy between brother and sister forms the basis for the petition, and the details are naturally of a disgusting nature, while the general statement of fact is enough to surprise any one, that in such a state as Iowa so deplorable a state of family affairs should exist. A slight ray of light is thrown upon the case of Ryan, who died recently in this city, as the result of a blow given him in a saloon in Audubon county some time previous. The Times of that place says Ryan's injuries were doubtless received at an altercation with a saloon keeper at Gray the latter part of last September. It was thought at the time that the blow given to Ryan's head by a beer mallet, in the saloon keeper's hand, would result fatally, but he recovered sufficiently to attend to his business affairs again. It was this blow which the coroner's jury here found to be the cause of death, but at last accounts the saloon man was still at large. There was trouble the other evening among the newboys who are wont to sell the evening paper published here. The business management has been accustomed to give the boys checks calling for the next day's papers in return for all which they asked to sell. Of late it has been noticed that the boys have brought in little cash but returned many papers. An investigation and a little detective business satisfied the management that some of the boys, after selling their papers, picked up subscribers' papers and returned them to the office as usual. When the boys were charged with the conspiracy and checks refused them there was a lively scene. Hand words filled the air and a general hoop of war went up. Quiet has been restored without bloodshed.

An Assault. James Johnson, a colored man, assaulted two white men from Omaha at about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, for using improper language. The colored man was chased up Broadway and was finally arrested. Also the two persons whom he assaulted were arrested. Their names are James Nugent and Lewis Balen. The negro claims that they insulted him first. About two hundred persons were chasing after the negro before he was caught. The affair caused much sensation and considerable excitement.

WARDENS OF THE WARDS.

Municipal Matters Acted Upon by the Aldermen in Regular Session Convened.

Financial Facts Given by Recorder Burke-Lately Talk Over the Oakland Avenue Grade.

At the regular meeting of the city council held Friday evening there was a full attendance and sundry matters of interest to taxpayers were handled. A memorial was presented signed by leading citizens asking the council to take some needed steps for the securing of a much needed government building at this point. A committee was appointed to consider what action was advisable and report at the next gathering. The treasurer's report was presented showing the cash balance on hand to be $5,579.49, and that all the funds had a little money in them except the park fund which had been overdrawn $36. The general fund in which so many are interested, was reported as having a balance on hand of $2,701. Recorder Burke presented a showing of the city's financial condition. It shows the bonded indebtedness of the city to be $147,400. The outstanding warrants for the past ten years footed up $32,101.83. The warrants issued during the year 1881 amounted to $71,888. The amount coming from levies for the several funds of the treasury, to run the city's expenses until next January were $59,730.11. To be added to this were money in the hands of the sheriff, the cash on hands in the treasury, the receipts from the police court which would before January next probably reach $9,000, and sundry other matters, so that it was figured that the total resources with which to run the city during 1882 would amount to $76,045. Recorder Burke closed his report by stating: "This is a state of affairs never before attained in this city during my recollection. If the city, instead of anticipating the tax levy, and spending it before it is collected, can do, as there seems to be a probability it can, keep the axes of the last year to run the present one, city warrants need not be hawked about at a discount. It will be seen by the above that we have to run this city this year $76,045, and last year there was expended $71,888, leaving $5,157 more than was expended from January 1, 1881 to January 1, 1882."

A vote of thanks was passed to Recorder Burke's credit for the work and time he had given to preparing the statement. The city attorney informed the council that at the next meeting he would have ready to offer an ordinance providing for the vaccination of the school children and indigent persons. The committee provided for investigating concerning the purchase of property for city purposes recommended the buying of that belonging to Mrs. Amy for $6,000. Report adopted by 5 to 3. The question of licensing Dowdy's saloon caused some discussion, there being a petition for the license and a remonstrance. The license was not granted. The question of work on Union avenue was also talked over. In view of the fact that injunction suits had been commenced, the work had been temporarily suspended, but the work was ordered to be continued until the next meeting, when the committee on internal improvements are expected to report as to what is best to do. The special police service was ordered discontinued until the next meeting. The mayor presented the following resolution and desired the council to pass it, which was done by a unanimous vote: Resolved, That in consolidating the special levies with the general fund levy that it was and is not the intention of this council in any manner to divert said special levies, or the funds thereby raised, from the specific purposes for which said levies were raised, but merely to merge the same into a general fund, from which all costs of said specific objects shall be paid.

The matter of grade on Oakland Avenue was brought up. Colonel W. F. Sapp and J. N. Casady were present, the latter being represented by Colonel Dailey. These gentlemen differed stoutly as to the grade of that street. Colonel Sapp wanted the old grade maintained. Mr. Casady desired that it be raised. A warm and earnest discussion between them resulted into something of a war of words and considerable feeling was manifested. The matter was adjourned temporarily by the decision of the council to visit the avenue in person, all work in the meantime to be suspended. Adjournment was then taken until next Thursday evening.

Iceless. Thomas Bowman has the past week been keeping seventy teams and about sixty men employed cutting, packing and shipping ice, at a point about five miles south of this city. He has built a large new ice house, with a frontage of about fifty feet and a depth of two hundred. It is claimed that none of the ice cut thus far is really river ice, it being either from the lake or from the old channel of the river, or from ponds adjacent to the river, but that ice formed from flowing waters is yet untouched. There is a fine ice field ready for operation on this side of the river, opposite the smelting works, where for a mile stretch there is extra good ice extending a width of 400 feet. Not only is Kansas City depending upon Council Bluffs for its ice, but now come representatives from Quincy, Ill., who think it expedient to procure ice from here, as there is no seeming prospect for getting a supply from those points north of them on the Mississippi to which they are wont to look for their condensed coolness.

A Slight Blaze. About noon yesterday the alarm of fire was sounded, due to the discovery of smoke issuing from the gable end of Mollie Wallace's house, corner of Green and Benton streets. The fire was speedily suppressed, and little damage was done, only a small portion of one end of the roof being burned. A defective flue is the cause assigned.

A NEW FACTORY.

A Plan for Making Wagons and Carriages in Council Bluffs. A Proposition Backed Up by $50,000 Cash. At the citizens' meeting held Saturday evening a very important proposition was presented through Mr. E. L. Shugart, which was to the effect that five men of means had $50,000 in cash ready to invest in a wagon and carriage factory, but the location was not finally decided upon. These men proposed to locate the new factory here, providing that the property of the old agricultural works can be secured for the factory purposes. There was $25,000 of this stock of the old agricultural works which had been donated to this new enterprise, so that only about $25,000 of this old stock needed to be secured. This could be bought up at about ten cents on the dollar, and part of it could be secured, doubtless, as a donation. There were three lots in the blocks which ought to be purchased. It was estimated that to buy up the balance of the old stock of the agricultural works and to purchase these three lots about $2,500 would be needed. It was proposed that if the citizens would raise the amount necessary to secure the balance of this stock and the lots, these five men would put in them $50,000 cash, and would as speedily as possible have in operation here a wagon and carriage factory, of as great an extent as could be conducted on $50,000 capital, and as the business warranted more money would be put into it. The fact was brought out that some time ago on a proposition to start a wind-mill factory a committee of five citizens secured subscriptions amounting to about $4,000. That enterprise fell through, and it was suggested that this same committee hunt up this old subscription list and reinstate these same subscribers, it being believed that nearly all of them would consent to transferring their subscriptions to this new and better enterprise. It was decided that this old committee should be thus called upon to serve, and to report at an early date as possible. The men who thus stand ready with $50,000 cash are anxious to begin laying brick at once, and if this old property now lying in disuse and ruin, can be procured at once the new factory will be located here, and will begin its activity at once. To secure this from $2,000 to $2,500 will be needed. There remains the simple and practical question whether the citizens want that factory had enough to give this amount. From the sentiments expressed at the meeting, it seemed there would be no trouble in securing enough to foster these making this proposition and establishing the factory on the site proposed.

PERSONAL.

Judge Reed opens court in Audubon county to-day. County Superintendent J. W. Cooper rested at home yesterday. F. C. Newell has a new implement dealer who starts in life weighing over twelve pounds. L. Von Blessing, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with friends here and made the Ogden his headquarters. D. H. Solomon, the well known Wash man, spent Sunday in this city, accompanied by his daughter. Robert St. an, of the American Express company, Lincoln, N. B., took his Sunday dinner at the Pacific house. Mrs. J. T. Clark, wife of the general agent of the Northwestern road has returned from visiting her Chicago friends. Henry T. Leach, representing a large boot and shoe firm in Rochester, N. Y., is stopping with his old friend A. Wheeler, of the Revere house. Henry F. Leiby, former manager for the Singer manufacturing company here, and now doing business in Davenport, spent Sunday with C. A. Frederick in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Maxwell, the venerable parents of W. J. Maxwell, of this city, recently celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Washington county, N. Y. Mansel Wicks, who has so long been interested in railroad building, expected to remain here with his family for sixty days longer, but has received a telegram requesting him to report for duty at Fort Worth, Texas, by the 28th, so that he will need to start for there in a day or two.

Visible Improvement.

Mr. Noah Bates, Elmira, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I had an attack of bilious fever, and never fully recovered. My digestive organs were weakened, and I would be completely prostrated for days. After using two bottles of your BARKER BLOOD PURIFIER the improvement was so visible that I was astonished. I can now, though 61 years of age, do a fair and reasonable day's work." Price $1.00, trial size 50 cents.

WIDE AWAKE.

The Citizens Seem Anxious to Secure a New Opera House at an Early Date.

The Plans Suggested and the Steps Taken.

There was a large attendance at the citizens meeting held Saturday night at the board of trade rooms to consider the question of building a new opera house. E. L. Shugart called the gathering to order and on motion W. C. James was called upon to preside. There chanced to be present Rev. Dr. D. Banks McKenzie, of Salt Lake City, who has had considerable experience in erecting large buildings for various charitable purposes and was called upon to give the citizens the benefit of his experience. He gave the details of the building in Salt Lake City, which is just about being completed, at a cost of $115,000. He stated that the necessary funds were secured by issuing stock in one dollar shares, which were sure to bring eight per cent interest, in time. Mr. J. J. Brown was called upon. He renewed his proposition, already made public, it being that he would furnish suitable ground and invest $10,000 in cash beside, provided the citizens would take enough interest to raise the balance needed. He would do this provided he had control of the enterprise, but did not make this proposition because of any scheme of his own, but simply because he felt that the city needed a new opera house, and he desired to see some plan carried into execution which would attain that object. He had no particular plan to insist upon, but said that he would, besides furnishing the grounds, issue bonds, running twenty years and drawing six per cent interest. He would himself put $10,000 into these bonds, and the citizens could take the rest, he preferring the bonds to be held here rather than sold in the eastern market. He thought he could secure a location at the corner of Brooklyn and Sixth streets for $5,000 or $6,000. It had been suggested to him that a stock company be formed. If this could be done successfully he would go into that, but thought the bond system would prove better, as stock companies were more cumbersome and more liable to troubles arising concerning the management of the enterprise. Mr. Shugart strongly favored Mr. Brown's plan, and thought the latter to be just the man to manage the matter. He thought the proposition should awaken prompt action. Mr. L. W. Tulley expressed himself in favor of the bond system, and thought there would be no trouble in having the bonds taken. The Omaha opera house bonds were at par. Dr. McKune said he was in favor of the bonds rather than stock. With a stock company there was no knowing where the power would drift to in course of time. The bond plan was simple and more satisfactory. He moved the appointment of a committee of seven to consider the matter, and report to a meeting to be called by them. The motion passed and the chairman was given until to-morrow to announce the names of those selected by him.
